Fall Work/Play Weekend: We worked, we played. What's more to say?

Our lodge needs tender loving care to stay beautiful, and we provide much of the labor ourselves. Most of Saturday, we worked, half of Sunday and Monday, we all had time to hike, go to town, go out for some beers, and more.

Among our recent improvements and maintenance (some with help from providers):

A new oil tank, Upgrade & repair of the septic system, Two log treatments, New water pressure tank, Overhaul of cooking stove with valve and line cleaning, Pool table recover with new bumpers, New smart thermostats, Wonderful new coffee table cubes, New dimmable light fixtures, Driveway work, New entranceway flood lights.

Along with the usual maintenance, like cleaning, sanding, painting and standard repairs. Whew! Next time, join in the fun!

Thanksgiving. No turkey of a weekend.

Ever smoked a turkey? We did. Not a big crowd this year, but we had fun. And Sugarbush already had plenty of snow.

What's more "New England" than Thanksgiving in Vermont, and vice versa?.

Labor Day Cycling Weekend.

Breakfasts and dinners on the deck under our new string of LED lights. A bunch of very enthusiastic cyclists invited by Azita and Vitale, the crafts fair, hiking, a valley full of other serious bike racers from all over (there was a big race on), and, oh, yes, some serious rain that stopped at all the right moments. Very balmy.

Overheard in the game room:

Randy (looking at his hybrid bicycle loaded with accessories):

"Wow, a roomful of Ferraris, and I brought a Jeep."

Pat: "Randy, you brought a minivan!"

Some of us did not go racing, over the gaps and all that.

Events in New York ... We presented ourselves at at Paragon, watched a presentation at NYU-Langone.

It was fun to get together at Paragon Sports last week and show off the club and club members to curious people. Pat's "photos" tree is always a hit, and one of us won a major prize in Paragon's raffle.

A few weeks earlier, we visited NYU-Langone for an interesting lecture on ski injuries and conditioning -- how to get in shape even if you didn't start two months ago. We'll see if we can post some of the guides they used. Meanwhile, over the holidays, be stretching! See you for New Years!
